

In This Together: for transfeminist solidarity

‘In This Together’ is TGEU’s strategic communications campaign, developed through cross-movement collaboration and grounded in messaging research on how to build common ground across diverse feminist movements.

Across Europe and beyond, feminist movements are facing intensified attacks on women’s and LGBTI people’s rights. Coordinated efforts by authoritarian and anti-rights movements are undermining democratic rights, restricting bodily autonomy, and deepening divisions within feminist and broader social justice movements. At a time when we need each other more than ever, solidarity is not optional, but strategic.

We cannot afford to be divided. This campaign responds to a clear need: many feminists want to come together to overcome today’s challenges but lack the tools to navigate complex, nuanced discussions constructively.
